By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

"Tis but to know how little can be known, To see all other's faults, and feel our own."

The New York Telephone Co. reaps a harvest of dollars selling the time of day at 5 cents a call. "Time is money!"

The Rev. John Roach Straton, in an amazing clerical excursion into the boiling arena of partisan politics, makes another bitter attack on Gov. Smith, and calls on Senator George, of Georgia, and Joseph Daniels, to turn their allegiance from the candidate of the party which fought reconstruction and Federal bayonets at the polling booth, "to the moral and religious forces which will at last sweep the South." It isn't the carpetweeper the South is thinking about, but the carpetbag.

It is said that a flapper will be able to carry a week's wages in Andy Mellon's new money under her garter without destroying the streamline of her shape.

The party that held up its hands in holy horror of Bill Vane holds up its hands with piousunction to receive the juicy simoleons of the Du Ponts.

With one of the leading pre-convention newspaper supporters of Hoover praising his attitude on prohibition nullification, and calling upon him, if elected, to put an end to all Constitutional nullification, including that of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, the present would seem to be a bad time for the South to stub its toe on the rock of intolerance.

If the Navy aviator who jumped from a plane 15,000 feet above Washington and landed on top of an apartment house is going to continue these stunts he should get the addresses of some of our mattress factories.

We hope the President is right in his opinion that the Kellogg peace treaty would have stopped the World War in 1914, but our own recollection of how that conflict was precipitated convinces us that there would have been another scrap of paper for the wastebasket.

The Antislavery League wins a smashing victory in Ohio, which will make it necessary for it to wear a bandage on its thumb for quite some time.

"The people of North Carolina," says Joseph Daniels, placing Tarheel in the Smith column with as good a grace as he can muster, "have a sincere belief in prohibition." We have often noticed the evidence of it scattered along the roadside down there, and have frequently got a puncture by the same.

We notice that Gov. Gore also warmly praises Hoover and prohibition down in West Virginia.

If the politician will vote their way the drys don't care how rote a face he makes when he casts his ballot.

With the Shanghai Nationalist Government sending a sharp rebuff to Tokyo T. R.'s word "Chinafied" is rapidly coming to be a synonym for "the fighting edge."

What a blessing it would be if the monthly bills could also be printed on the same machines that are turning out Mr. Mellon's half-pint currency.

Poor old Pal's broken heart is still by a charge of electricity and we like to think that such devotion as his is proof that even a dumb creature has a soul and immortality. As Kipling would say: There is sorrow enough in the natural way From Pikes and Airedales to fill our day; But when we are certain of sorrow in store Why do we always arrange for more?

"On such a night Leander swam the Hellespont." It was worth a poem in the old days, but only a stickful of type when eighteen college students do the trick without amatory inspiration.

Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, says truly enough that a statement of the use of a campaign fund is more to be desired than a statement of the amount, which illustrates that the shoe of political prosperity is now on the other foot.

Tom Hefflin's silence nowadays is becoming positively deafening.

Mr. Hoover will pay a brief visit to the Grand Canyon. What a stadium for an acceptance speech that would make!

You don't have to prove that when Republican publicity headquarters gave out mud-slinging Bill White's attack on Gov. Smith it was a mistake—they admit it.

REAL TRAFFIC SPEEDERS GET AWAY, IS CLAIM

4,135 Arrests in Month Included Only 589 of This Type.

POLICE SYSTEM HELD UNAVALING IN CASES

Bulk of Complaints Are Found to Be Unimportant by Expert Investigators.

By WILLIAM ULLMAN. Observation to determine what is wrong with Washington traffic indicates definitely that the onus for the chaotic and confusing situation prevailing here falls most heavily upon the arrogant private vehicle operator, the taxi driver, and the light commercial vehicle operator. There are others, of course, whose deviations from the path of reason and right are dangerous but, in the main, the three groups named include the most serious offenders.

Contrasting strikingly with this fact are the revelations in connection with enforcement of the traffic regulations showing that members of the three groups mentioned figure least in the police round-up of law violators.

The most recent figures available—those for July of the current year—markedly illustrate this point.

During the month, usually the high mark of the year in respect to traffic arrests, 4,135 motorists felt the clutch of the law.

Speeders Feel Little Law.

Of outstanding significance in connection with these figures is the fact that approximately only one-fourth of these were made to pay the penalty for infractions of those regulations most peculiarly relating to safety.

The speeder, the reckless weaver in traffic, the driver who ignores the boulevard stop sign regulation, the one who cuts the corner sharply and speedily, and the careless who violate the sanctity of the safety zone—these are the motorists whose sins against safety are most widely recognized as serious.

How did they fare among the traffic violators who paid the penalty for their misdeeds?

Of the 4,135 arrests, but 589 were on charges of speeding. Roughly, they constitute only 14 per cent of those haled before the bar of justice for endangering the safety of themselves and others.

And the reckless? What was their fate with reference to police detection and arrest? According to the records, charges of reckless driving were placed against only 233. That fact suggests to many observers of the traffic situation in the National Capital two questions:

What do the police regard as recklessness on the part of the motorist?

Where Are the Police?

Where are the police during the rush hours of traffic when the arrogant driver is at his tempestuous worst?

Actual count at typical corners under average conditions would indicate beyond

JURY AWARDS BRYANT $50,000 IN LOVE SUIT

Holds Henry Westall, Clubman, Must Pay Following Alienation Charge.

Asheville, S. C., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Fifty thousand dollars was awarded G. Wallace Bryant by a Buncombe County jury today, just half the amount he had asked in his suit against Henry Westall, prominent Asheville clubman, for alleged alienation of Mrs. Bryant's affections. The jury gave Bryant $38,000 actual and $12,000 punitive damages.

The verdict came after several days of sensational testimony, in which Bryant, who is a patient in a local sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis, sought to show that his home was wrecked as a result of the alleged attentions paid Mrs. Bryant by Westall.

Counsel for the defendant made a motion to have the verdict set aside on the ground that it was excessive. Judge H. Hoyle Sink announced that he would set a time when argument on that point would be heard.

Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, says truly enough that a statement of the use of a campaign fund is more to be desired than a statement of the amount, which illustrates that the shoe of political prosperity is now on the other foot.

Man Found Strangled In Arlington Cemetery

Believed Paul Z. Randolph, Pennsylvania Veteran. Discovered in Ravine Under Tree Choked to Death With Necktie—Relatives Sought.

In a little-frequented spot in an Arlington National Cemetery ravine the body of a man believed to be Paul Z. Randolph, 38-year-old war veteran, of Shamokin, Pa., was found yesterday. Shortly after noon, by a negro workman cutting grass in the vicinity. The man had been strangled to death with his black necktie, which was drawn tightly around his throat and knotted front and back.

Beside the body, which was under a tree about 70 feet from McClellan driveway, lay a newspaper dated Monday, and in the man's pockets were found parts of correspondence with the United States Veterans' Bureau, most of which had been torn away, except parts bearing the name and serial number of an adjusted compensation certificate.

Immediately after the discovery, Lieut. Thomas A. Roberts, Jr., officer of the day, and Maj. James H. Truitt, Army Medical Reserve Corps, of Glendale, Md., who is acting medical officer at Fort Myer, were notified, and they viewed the body. They found the torn correspondence and also the name P. Z. Randolph in the band of the straw hat that the man wore, and corresponding initials or his belt buckle.

Maj. Truitt said that the man had probably been dead 48 hours, or at least since Monday night. He said that there was no sign of any scuffling in the vicinity, nor any evidence of murder. The man died of strangulation, apparently self-inflicted, Maj. Truitt stated, and his neck was not broken. The body was prone upon its back.

Maj. Truitt and Lieut. Roberts submitted a report to Robert Dye, superintendent of the cemetery, who removed the body to the funeral parlor of Norval K. Tabler, 928 M street northwest, where it is held pending orders from the Veterans' Bureau.

The body was fairly well dressed in a dark suit and apparently brand-new suit o. underwear, Maj. Truitt said, but not a cent of money nor an article of jewelry was found. Both Maj. Truitt and Lieut. Roberts are active in the Veterans' Bureau.

ELOPEMENT FOILED AT ALTAR BY POLICE

Detective, Acting on Father's Order, Finds Couple at Parsonage.

PARENT BERATES FIANCE

Instead of the merry din of wedding bells, the shrill blast of the siren of a speeding police automobile sounded outside the parsonage of the Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, 3400 Tenth street northwest, yesterday afternoon, shattering the hopes of a Fredericksburg, Va., young couple which was anxiously waiting for the tying of the marital knot in spite of parental objections.

Thus it was that John Thomas Jett, 21 years old, who fingered nervously a wedding ring, and Edith May Stone, 17, the would-be bride, were at police headquarters a little later consoling each other with the thought that only two months more will bring Miss Stone's eighteenth birthday, when her father's objections can be overruled.

Are Second Cousins.

Jett and his interior bride left Fredericksburg shortly after noon and were brought to this city by a friend who had an automobile. Fearing interference, they went immediately to the marriage license bureau, where Miss Stone is said to have given her age as 18 years. Then they purchased the ring and hurried to the pastor's home.

The young persons are second cousins, living on farms within a mile of each other near Fredericksburg. Jett told detectives.

Traced by Detectives.

The would-be-bride's father is Edgar Stone. He communicated with Virginia authorities immediately after his daughter's elopement became known and the couple were traced to this city. Detective D. G. Fletcher trailed the man and girl to the license bureau and later found them at the pastor's home.

Jett was held for investigation at the First Precinct Station and Miss Stone was sent to the House of Detention to await her father.

"Maybe we can fix it up all right when your father comes," Jett told her. CONTINUED ON PAGE 2, COLUMN 4.

3 Held As Love Plot Poisoners at Hearing

Woman, New Mate and Alleged Drug Seller, Denied Bail.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Three alleged members of a poison plot which, the State charges, resulted in the death of one person and the illness of three others, were held for superior court trial without bond today after a preliminary hearing in city court.

They are S. W. Daniels, a fortune teller, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Presslar, charged with first degree murder and conspiracy to murder in connection with the death last June of L. M. Lockamy, Mrs. Presslar's first husband.

Three other alleged members of the plot charged with conspiracy to murder will be given hearings tomorrow. They are Mrs. L. W. Pridgen, Mrs. Lilly Townley, and J. H. Moore, a negro preacher of Newton, N. C. They are charged with administering poison to their spouses.

Defense counsel vigorously opposed every move of the State at the hearing today. The State concentrated its attack on Daniels, alleged central figure of the plot. He was pictured in testimony of witnesses as a fortune teller who undertook to slay his tangled domestic situations by providing poison for the objectionable mates.

Defense Fights Bitterly.

Bitter legal wrangling preceded the introduction of a signed statement by Daniels in which he admitted having

COOLIDGE SAYS TREATY IS BEST HOPE OF PEACE

No War in 1914 if Kellogg Pact Had Existed, He Tells Legion.

TALKS BEFORE CROWD OF 15,000 AT WAUSAU

Declares Agreement Gives Brightest Outlook World Ever Has Seen.

Wausau, Wis., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Emphasizing America's earnest determination to promote international peace, President Coolidge hailed today the pending covenant for the outlawry of war as the brightest hope for peace the world has ever seen.

Addressing more than 15,000 persons at the convention of the Wisconsin American Legion, the Chief Executive described the Kellogg-Brand pact as an international agreement which would have prevented the catastrophe of the World War had it been in existence in 1914.

Interrupted frequently by applause as he stood bareheaded under a canopy facing the grand stand of Marathon Park, President Coolidge pointed to the antiwar treaty as witness that America's military establishment was not maintained for any aggressive purposes.

Following his address, the President, Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, were made life guests of the Talbot Montgomery Post, No. 10, and the auxiliary of the American Legion. Mr. Coolidge and John were presented with red Wisconsin legion overseas caps, and the President smilingly placed his cap on his head at a jaunty angle. The crowd roared its approval and a legionnaire presented the flowers to the disabled veterans of the State and announced by Frank Schneller, retiring commander of the State Legion, of the act, brought prolonged cheering from the immense crowd packing the stand and filling the park beneath the towering pine trees.

Airplanes circled over Coolidge's train as it drew into the crowded city center. Booms boomed in salute and various drum corps beat a welcome. The President, from the rear platform, acknowledged the greeting by waving his hand and smiling. He was borne away quickly in an open car to the park in a procession many blocks long. As the train drew out of Wausau the cannon again boomed in farewell.

Special approbation from the crowd also was aroused by Coolidge's references to "the wonderful spirit of loyalty and devotion that was manifested in the heart of the whole Nation" during the war, irrespective of National origin.

Praises Veterans of War.

Further applause drowned out Coolidge's words as he praised the part taken by the veterans in the war. "We have had a great deal of discussion concerning the injustice of one

13 VICTIMS OF BLAST REMOVED FROM MINE

Bodies Recovered Account for All in Coalport Shaft at Time of Explosion.

Coalport, Pa., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Thirteen bodies were removed last night from the No. 3 mine of the Irwona Coal & Coke Co. in which a blast occurred this afternoon. One miner was brought out alive and rescue workers said all 13 men were now accounted for.

There were 150 men in the mine at the time of the blast. Officials of the company said that had the explosion occurred fifteen minutes later the mine would have been cleared of men. Most of the bodies brought out were mangled and virtually all were without clothing, denoting, rescue workers said, that the explosion was of terrific force.

The explosion was confined to No. 3, south section, which is located about 3 miles from the mouth of the mine.

Girl, 3, Dragged Under Trolley, Is Only Bruised

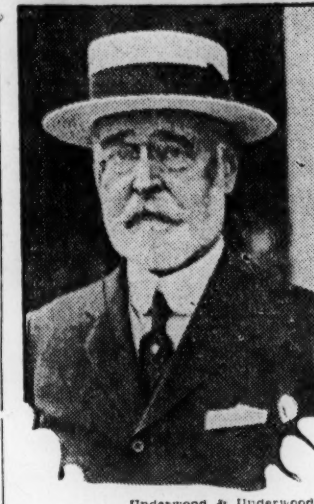

Three-year-old Louise Marion Redmond, of 1228 Thirty-sixth street northwest, miraculously escaped death last night when she was hurled under a street car while chasing a ball across the street in front of her home, and dragged about 15 feet. She is in Georgetown Hospital, suffering only from minor cuts and bruises on the head and body, police reported.

According to police, the child was playing with other children on the sidewalk when the ball rolled onto the car tracks. Ignoring the approach of a street car driven by Motorman J. H. Thompson, Marion ran after the ball. The street car struck her, and she was caught by the safety guard under the car. The car skidded 15 feet to a stop, police said, and neighbors and the car crew extricated the child. She was hurried to the hospital by a motorist.

Eberle Ends 47 Years With Navy Tomorrow

Admiral, Who Began Service at 17, to Retire on 64th Birthday.

Underwood & Underwood. ADMIRAL E. W. EBERLE.

Admiral E. W. Eberle, chairman of the Navy general board, and recently chief of naval operations, will retire tomorrow after 47 years' service in the Navy, beginning at the age of 17 and ending with his sixty-fourth birthday.

His career has included service in the Spanish-American and World Wars. He was with the history-making dash of the U. S. S. Oregon around Cape Horn in the Spanish-American War, and during the World War was superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

He is the ranking officer in the Navy list by virtue of seniority. Admiral Eberle was the first to employ the destroyer smoke screen, assisted in installation of first wireless telegraph apparatus on naval vessels and drew up instructions in their use and devised the codes.

Admiral Eberle also organized the battle fleet and was its first commander; he instituted the planning division of the gun factory of the Washington Navy Yard as its commander; organized destroyers in tactical units, drafted mine-laying and mine-sweeping tactics, and under his direction first instructions for aircraft spotting were issued. He was born at Denton, Tex., in 1864, and entered the Naval Academy in 1881.

He is president of the Navy Mutual Aid Association, the Navy Relief Society, and Naval Institute, and a member of the Society of Foreign Wars, Military Order of the World War, Army and Navy, New York Yacht and Cherry Chase Clubs.

Pal, Old Dog, Joins Owners in Death

Electrocuted, as Eric Matus Asked, by an Expert of Rescue League.

FRIENDS SEEK LITTLE GIRL

Pal, 13-year-old collie, was electrocuted at the Animal Rescue League headquarters yesterday after two scores men and women had tried in vain to save him. A brass collar was attached to his neck and three charges of 1,200 volts each were sent through it to still his broken heart.

The dog had been on a hunger strike from the time his master and mistress Mr. and Mrs. Eric Matus, were drowned in the Potomac on August 8. They had left instructions that he be executed if ever he were left alone.

Mrs. M. R. Blumenberg, vice president of the Animal Rescue League, received 20 telephone calls before 10 o'clock yesterday morning at her home and there were as many more received at the headquarters of the league. The callers read of Pal's plight in The Washington Post and were anxious to save him and adopt him.

"They thought it was a crime to execute him," Mrs. Blumenberg said. One woman in Clinton, Md., said she could offer Pal a beautiful home and loving care, and there were many other such offers.

But the dog people did not understand. Pal could never be happy again. Anybody who saw the look of anguish in his eyes would know it. I have seen collies in somewhat similar circumstances slowly die of broken hearts," Mrs. Matus knew it would be so, and that is why he left instructions to put him to sleep if ever anything happened."

Pal went to his death gracefully. The bottom of the death chamber was covered with a quarter of an inch of water, water being a conductor of electricity. His four feet were placed in this and then his neck was dampened. After that the "hot collar" was attached, the door was closed and the switch was pulled. Death was so quick that no pain was involved.

It is probable that Pal will be buried in the dog cemetery at the Aspen Hill. CONTINUED ON PAGE 5, COLUMN 4.

Frogs, Fish, Berries, Keep Lost Man Alive

Prospector Rescued After 48 Days' Wandering in North Woods—Nearly Exhausted and in Rags When Found by Friend.

The Pas Man, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—After being lost for 48 days in the north country and living on frogs and dead fish, Andy Taylor, prospector, came back to civilization today—in rags and so weak from starvation that he could hardly walk.

He came back in an airplane, and with him was his friend, Fred Coleman, Ontario prospector, who refused to believe he was dead, stayed on the ground and kept up the search long after everybody else had quit, and finally found him. The plane was piloted by Capt. Kenyon Western Airways pilot, who flew up to Burntwood yesterday to get them.

When Coleman found him, Taylor was at the point of giving up. His shoes were worn out, and he had wrapped pieces of his tattered clothing about his bleeding feet. For days, he said, he had been able to walk only about 50 or 100 feet before falling down exhausted. A seven-week beard covered his pale, gaunt face.

Wild berry bushes were still in bloom in the north woods and strange when Taylor wandered away from his companions and lost his way. Before he was found the berries had formed and ripened so that he could eat them. After he had been wandering about several days, he had to abandon his ax and his pal. Once when he had not eaten for days and days, he saw dead fish floating on the surface of a lake. He swam out to them and devoured them. Later, he says, he became adept at catching live frogs and he lived on them for weeks. Finally he reached the south shore of Burntwood Lake, which he thought was Gold Lake. He swam out to an island where he said he found potatoes growing wild.

He was tottering aimlessly along through the brush when Coleman, who had followed very close and stuck to the trail, found him.

Taylor was too weak to talk much tonight. But he could grin.

DRY-INDORSED NOMINEES TOP OHIO TICKETS

Cooper Named by G. O. P., Davey by Democrats, for Governor.

LOCHER, BEATEN, MAY SEEK VOTE RECOUNT

Truax Apparently Wins in Short-Term Senate Race on Democratic Slate.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—The Antislavery League apparently has nominated its candidates for governor of Ohio on both the Republican and Democratic tickets on the face of unofficial returns from yesterday's State primary, but the G. O. P. race appears so close tonight that an official count may be necessary to determine the result.

Myers V. Cooper, Cincinnati, had an unofficial plurality of 5,568 over his nearest opponent, Representative James T. Begg, of Sandusky, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination when complete returns from yesterday's primary election were tabulated by the Associated Press tonight. The unofficial vote stood:

Cooper, 259,725; Begg, 254,157; Fred Kohler, 25,115; Harry A. Shanley, 6,840; Harry C. Smith, 16,181; Edward C. Turner 90,236.

Cooper carried the Dry League endorsement. While Begg was actively supported by many leading drys, the Antislavery League did not endorse him. In some places he cut heavily into Cooper's dry rural territory and carried the large urban centers.

The Cincinnati man was the Republican nominee two years ago. He lost to Gov. A. V. Donahay at the November election by a small margin.

Davey's Figures Generous.

Representative Martin L. Davey, of Kent, the league-picked candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, appeared to have won a convincing victory over Peter Witt, former Cleveland traction commissioner. Incomplete returns gave him a lead of 26,000 in a field of five candidates and his margin over Witt, his closest opponent, was growing steadily.

In the senatorial race to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Frank B. Willis the league did not fare quite so well. Representative Theodore E. Burton, Cleveland's veteran legislator and exponent of the dry cause, received the Republican nomination virtually without a campaign, but the liberal "wets" apparently put over their candidate on the Democratic ticket.

Hunt 12,000 to the Good.

Graham P. Hunt, Cincinnati attorney, avowed supporter of Gov. Al Smith and an advocate of modification of the Volstead act, had a majority of more than 12,000 votes over Senator Cyrus Locher on the Democratic ticket, with about 700 precincts unreported. Locher, who was appointed to the Senate by Gov. Donahay after the death of Willis, was endorsed by the dry league.

A demand for an official count and probably an investigation of this vote appeared probable tonight when Senator Locher's headquarters here called attention to an alleged discrepancy of approximately 10,000 votes in the returns from Cuyahoga County (Cleveland). Locher's home territory.

The State voted on both short-term and long-term senatorial nominations. Nearly 10,000 more votes were cast in Cuyahoga County in the Hunt-Locher race than were reported in the long-term senatorial contest, in which five candidates were entered, it was charged in a formal statement issued by Locher headquarters. The senator, it was said, planned to call the alleged discrepancy to the attention of the secretary of State.

Burton's Plurality 140,000.

Representative Burton had a plurality of more than 140,000 votes over Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall.

his closest rival for the Republican nomination.

Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, was unopposed for the Republican long term nomination. In the Democratic contest for the same office Charles V. Truax, State Director of Agriculture, who conducted a campaign chiefly on the issue of farm relief and indorsement of the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill, appears to have won by a 10,000 majority over former Representative George White, of Marietta.

Another tight race on the Republican State ticket was that between George C. Braden, of Warren, and State Representative John T. Brown for the two-year term for lieutenant governor. With little more than 400 precincts unreported, these candidates, who led a field of nine, were less than 200 votes apart. Brown held that slim lead. Braden was nominated by about 20,000 votes to fill the unexpired lieutenant governor term of six weeks.

George S. Myers was nominated for the long term on the Democratic ticket.

Two Tired Out by Woman In Swimming Contest

Colton, Calif., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Although the second of her two swimming races was taken from the water here this morning, Mrs. Lee Fournier, 36-year-old swimming instructor, still was going strong in her attempt to keep afloat in an open-air pool for 60 hours. She entered the water at 3 a. m. yesterday.

After 18 hours and 15 minutes Earl Smith, 19, gave up an attempt to set an endurance mark for men. A little more than two hours before Mrs. Fournier, 15, came out after swimming 15 hours and 57 minutes. If Mrs. Fournier attains her 60-hour goal she will once again hold the Guinness swimming championship for women.

Hassell Plans Hop-Off For Sweden Tomorrow

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, pilot and navigator of the monoplane Greater Rockford, will hop off at 6 a. m. Thursday on the first leg of their proposed flight to Sweden, it was announced tonight.

They plan to arrive at Cochrane, Ontario, eight hours after their take-off. Hassell intends to spend Thursday night there, refuel, and hop again Friday morning for Mount Evans, Greenland, 1,600 miles beyond.

Hassell's first attempt two weeks ago ended in a forced landing in a cornfield. "This time," said Hassell, "we're going to make it."

Crash Fires Two Autos, Glass Cutting One Man

When the front tire of his automobile blew out opposite 3103 Nichols avenue southeast yesterday, Harry S. Thompson, of Blue Plains, D. C., lost control of the machine and it collided with the parked automobile owned by Vincent Gull, 3111 Nichols avenue southeast.

Both automobiles burst into flames following the collision and fire companies were summoned to extinguish them. Edward Carlson, 28 years old, of Blue Plains, D. C., a passenger in Thompson's car, was slightly cut by flying glass.

NOMINEE IN OHIO

REPRESENTATIVE MARTIN L. DAVEY

GIRL, 15, SURRENDERS; SHOT MAN, SHE SAYS

No One With Her, Asserts Mary Arenci, When She Fired at Peddler, 59.

New York, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Fifteen-year-old Mary Arenci walked into the East 104th street police station today and admitted that she had shot Sarferio Pantelella, a peddler, nearly four times here, as he sat on the porch of an East Side tenement last evening.

Mary said Pantelella had taken advantage of her. She fired five shots at the 59-year-old man, one of which took effect in his left side. He was taken to a hospital, where his condition was said to be serious.

After the shooting Mary told detectives she went home to tell her mother. The family—there are three other children—passed the night in a park, but this morning, with only 10 cents for car fare, they all boarded a trolley and went to the station, where Mary told her story.

The girl contended that she was alone when Pantelella was shot. First reports were that she had been accompanied by a man who had fired twice.

Mail Plane Forced Down.

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—The southbound air mail plane, piloted by Gene Brown, came down early today because of a storm. The plane landed without difficulty and no damage was done. The mail was transferred to a train.

Brown plans to return to Richmond with the northbound air mail if weather conditions permit.

VIGILANTES CHECK BRAZIL MASSACRES

Disgruntled Diamond Prospectors Driven Out in Battles in Jungles.

NATIVES ARE DEFAUDED

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Ten thousand vigilantes, under Jose Morbeck, who is nicknamed "the Cecil Rhodes of South America," have ended two months of guerrilla warfare in Mato Grosso by driving 2,000 disgruntled native diamond prospectors across the border of the State of Guyana. Reports of the trouble reaching here tell of fights in the jungle and uplands of the rich diamond fields, of night forays, the burning of towns and the wiping out of inhabitants of several communities.

The trouble started when natives found they had been paid in counterfeit money for weeks of prospecting work in the stifling jungles. The use of fake money had become a common practice among the irresponsible foreign adventurers who infest the region and finally the natives decided to wipe out the boss prospectors.

A period of lawlessness followed, rivaling the days of old time American Indian warfare. There was burning of scattered homes and hamlets and massacre of the inhabitants. Individual prospectors were ambushed and robbery and plain murder were common.

The governor of Mato Grosso tried to control the situation with state troops, but gave up the attempt after several disastrous engagements.

Then Morbeck, the uncrowned king of the district, called on his own adherents. Ten thousand rallied to him while the malcontents centered their cause under the command of a band of chief known as Carvalhinho, which is the Portuguese name for the sturdy water oak. Morbeck's force was too overwhelming for the bandits. The 2,000 were driven into the state of Guyana.

There they were given asylum and the right to work in the diamond fields of that state after the governor had disarmed them and exacted promises of peaceful conduct.

The diamond fields of the two states have been the scenes of "wild west" happenings ever since 1918, when a German prospector found the first gems in the Araguaia River region, and the ensuing lawlessness spread to the fields from all parts of the globe. They were far from transportation or other contacts with civilization and made the prospecting life a constant struggle in their own way. If an individual did not like the rules of any one camp he was free to move to another, provided his objections were not expressed too forcibly. In that latter case he was given five days' grace to leave the area.

The practice of paying natives with counterfeit money grew up among the worst elements of the prospectors.

Plane Falls Into Gulf Of Mexico; One Killed

St. Petersburg, Fla., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—One man was killed and another injured when the trimotored plane of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., en route from Havana to Key West, was forced down in the Gulf of Mexico at 8 o'clock tonight, according to a wireless from the Ligonier to the Coast Guard station here.

The Ligonier reported that three other passengers of the plane were unhurt. The name of the man killed was given as Egerton.

Kellogg to Sign Today 3 Arbitration Treaties

Secretary of State Kellogg will sign arbitration and conciliation treaties today with Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. It was announced by the State Department yesterday. The formalities are scheduled to take place this morning at the department, when the three diplomatic envoys of the participating countries will affix their signatures.

Secretary Kellogg will sign the pact with Austria at 9:15 o'clock, with Czechoslovakia at 10 o'clock and with Poland at 11:15 o'clock. The arbitration treaties are similar to the Bryan treaties and have been already concluded with France, Italy, Germany, Denmark and Finland. Negotiations for arbitration pacts are now in progress between the United States and 22 nations and conciliation treaties with 15 nations.

Kellogg Plans to Call On Cosgrave in Ireland

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Kellogg virtually has decided to visit Ireland after signing the fifteen-power antiwar treaty in Paris, August 27, in order to return the call of President Cosgrave, of the executive council of the Irish Free State, made during his visit to this country. It is not unlikely that Kellogg also will visit London.

Kellogg will have a little more than a week to spend in Europe before the sailing of the steamship Leviathan on which he plans to return to the United States.

Fall From Load of Hay Kills Virginia Farmer

A. L. Emmons, Virginia farmer, received fatal injuries this afternoon when he fell from a load of hay on his farm near Bristol. He died of a fractured skull while en route to the hospital at Warrenton.

At the time of the accident Emmons was standing on a load of hay in his barn and was hoisting hay to a loft when the rope on which he was pulling broke. He fell to the floor of the barn, striking his head. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

WOMAN FALLS DEAD FROM FLOOD TERROR

Sister of Tobacco Magnate Collapses Crossing Bridge at Henderson, N. C.

Henderson, N. C., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Miss Ethel Allen, 47, of Warrenton, sister of George G. Allen, of New York, vice president of the British-American Tobacco Co. and chairman of the board of the Duke Foundation, died here today, evidently from fear caused by high water in a stream she and a party of 45 women were crossing in a bus. The party had been on a bus trip North and were returning home.

On reaching the Roanoke River it was found that the water was almost to the floor of the bridge. The party started walking across the bridge, the bus going ahead.

Miss Allen, with several others, had gotten about half way across the quarter-mile-long structure, when she suddenly slipped to the floor. She was placed aboard the bus and was being returned to South Hill, Va., for medical treatment, but died on the way.

Besides George G. Allen, Frank M. Allen, a brother, and Miss Lilla Allen, a sister, of Warrenton, survive.

POLICE SILENCE WEDDING BELLS

John Thomas Jett and Edith May Stone, of Fredericksburg, Va., whose heira to the marriage altar was halted by police yesterday just as the ceremony was about to start in the home of the Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, 3400 Tenth street northeast.

as he was being escorted from the District Building.

Stone arrived later in the evening and the girl was given into his custody. The police took Jett to confront the man who became almost his father-in-law. A stormy scene in the lobby of the Detective Bureau followed.

"I'll attend to your case when you get back to Virginia," declared the state parent.

"And just to think only this morning we walked two miles through the woods to get away from him," sighed Jett, as he walked away from the detective who had balked the marriage ceremony. He was freed by the police, and announced that he would go to Baltimore on a short trip before returning to Fredericksburg.

MIMIC AERIAL ATTACK "DESTROYS" LONDON

100 Bombing Planes Penetrate Defenses and Wipe Out Capital.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, Aug. 15.—If any of central Europe was not ruined in the past two days' bombardment from the air, it definitely went on the map tonight when mimic war between the East and West land reached a climax in a terrific mimic attack by 100 bombing planes. Penetrating the London defenses, the raiders again registered a direct hit on the air ministry, while other squadrons cruised over the Bank of England, St. Paul's Cathedral and along the Strand to the West End and back again. They then started for the coast, leaving London wiped out.

No official deductions from the operations have been given out, but the consensus of expert unofficial observers here tonight was that each successive day's raid has been more effective than the last. The Londoners are now in a state of complete confusion. The single-seated fighter, it is pointed out, should outperform any bomber, but, as a matter of fact, one bombing squadron sighted by the defenders evaded them simply by flying away at full speed, which was 20 miles an hour faster than their pursuers. The Morning Post correspondent also says that events during maneuvers arouse the grave doubts of the wisdom of fitting the fighters with air-cooled motors, whereas the last Schneider trophy race demonstrated that for speed the water-cooled engine was supreme.

MONTGOMERY TAXES INCREASED $200,000

Bills for $1,300,000 Levy to Be Mailed Through County This Week.

Montgomery County taxpayers will be asked this week to pay approximately $200,000 more in real and personal property and security taxes for 1928 than they have ever been required to pay before. The increase is due to the increase in property values brought about by the constant progress made in home and commercial construction and the enhancement in values caused by the highway and public school program that is being carried out by the board of county commissioners. It was learned yesterday.

County Treasurer J. Forest Walker said that his office will place 18,000 tax bills calling for an aggregate amount of approximately $1,300,000 in the mail this week. These do not include tax bills on autos of an approximate value of $2,300,000 owned in Montgomery County, which will be mailed out in October, Walker said yesterday.

The increase in taxes, unprecedented in the history of the county, is accounted for in the increase in the taxable base of the county recently arrived at by the board of assessors. The taxable base was set at $73,531,770. More than 60 per cent of the increase will be borne by property owners in the Maryland metropolitan area embracing Bethesda, Chevy Chase, Silver Spring, Glen Echo, Cabin John Park and other communities adjacent to Washington, where a steady large increase in values has been maintained annually for the past five years, it was said.

ANTI-SMITH VOTERS NAME CONRAD CHIEF

Former State Senator Heads Faction in Nine Counties in Virginia.

BISHOP CANNON SPEAKER

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., Aug. 15.—Former State Senator George N. Conrad, of Harrisonburg, Va., today was elected chairman of "Anti-Smith Democrats" in the region embracing the counties of Augusta, Rockingham, Rockbridge, Shenandoah, Highland, Bath, Allegany, Frederick and Clark.

This was one result of a meeting here today called by the Richmond headquarters of the "Anti-Smith Democrats" in Virginia. Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Richmond, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in an address attacked the sincerity of Gov. Smith in his acceptance of the party's platform as adopted at Houston. He emphasized that prohibition was not a dead issue, but one of the principal ones in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Eighty-one persons, including many Republicans, attended the meeting. An executive session was held at which members of the press were barred, for the election of regional and county officers who will lead the fight against Smith. When Bishop Cannon made his address newspaper men were admitted.

J. Harry Bryan, Staunton, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was elected chairman of the organization here. The Rev. T. H. Campbell, of the Sturta Draft Baptist Church, was named chairman for Frederick County, and O. G. Jackson, of Hot Springs, will lead the "anti-Smith Democrats" in Bath County.

Replying to the oft-heard charge that he was dragging the church into politics, Bishop Cannon said that, on the contrary, the object of himself and of the Rev. Arthur J. Barton, of Atlanta, chairman of the temperance board of the Baptist Church, was to reduce the place of politics. He added that when he donned the cloth of the ministry he did not surrender his independent right as a citizen. Bishop Cannon vehemently denied the charge that the Protestant ministry was opposing Smith because he was a Catholic. The bishop charged, however, that Gov. Smith was ecclesiastically, officially and privately wet.

Count Karolyi Expected To Be Allowed to Land

Count Michael Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian Republic, previously denied a passport for entry into the United States because of alleged radicalism, probably will be permitted to land in New York on September 1, on route from Mexico to Europe, despite the absence of official sanction from the State Department, it was learned yesterday.

Karolyi will arrive in New York on a coastwise ship as an alien in transit from one foreign country to another and as such he is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Labor. Officials of this department announced they had no objection to his landing while waiting for another ship to take him on to Europe. In the last analysis, it was said, it is the function of the immigration authorities of the Port of New York to say whether the count may go ashore.

Transocean Flier's Right Leg Amputated

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Major Carlo P. Del Prete, Italian South Atlantic flier, who recently was injured with his fellow airman, Capt. Arturo Ferrarin, in a plane crash, today underwent an operation for amputation of his right leg.

The accident happened on August 7 when he and Capt. Ferrarin were about to make a flight at the Rio aviation school, the plane crashing as they were testing it.

H. L. Thayer Quits Post As Telephone Chairman

New York, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Resignation of H. L. Thayer as chairman of the board of directors of the American Telephone & Telegraph Corporation was announced today.

The resignation was said to be in conformity with plans Mr. Thayer made three years ago to retire to private life. Announcement was made also of the election of Jeremiah Smith, Jr., of Boston, as a director of the corporation.

"Heavily Armed" Youths Again Put on Parole

James W. Callan, 21 years old, and John F. Thomas, 25, arrested by Detroit police and described as "armed to the teeth," were arraigned before Justice William Hitz in District Supreme Court yesterday for violation of probation. Justice Hitz released them on parole again when it was learned that their heavy armament consisted of a Boy Scout knife and a pocketknife.

Callan, who testified at the trial of the Bush slayers, was placed on probation for three years after conviction on a robbery charge last year. Thomas was placed on probation for five years after pleading guilty to a housebreaking charge last January.

PERMANENCE

WHEN you buy an oil burner you want to be sure that it is not only the most reliable and efficient but that it is being marketed by a financially responsible organization—one on whom you can call for service or parts if necessary three, five or ten years hence.

The ARCOIL Oil Burner is backed by such a concern—The Shull Sales Corporation. It is not a fly-by-night organization, but a permanent, well-financed company that is in the oil burner business to stay. Mr. Shull, its President, has been engaged in the electrical business in Washington for the last twenty years. He is willing to back ARCOIL to the limit because he is thoroughly convinced that it is the only oil burner that is perfect in construction, principle and operation—far superior to any burner offered heretofore.

LOST STUDENT PARTY NOW REPORTED SAFE

Iowans, With New Equipment, Take Shorter Route to Hudson Bay.

Regina, Saskatchewan, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—The John D. Fuller expedition of student geologists from Iowa, missing for some time, is safe, said word received here today. The students, with new equipment and provisions for the trail, have taken a new and shorter route to Hudson Bay, their goal.

The geologists were said to be now on their way on the route through Neulfin Lake and smaller bodies of water and down the Thlewiaza River to Hudson Bay. They are expected to emerge near Dittwood Point, half way between Chesterfield Inlet, their first objective, and Fort Churchill. Word of the party's safety came out of the north today in a message from the Pelican Narrows detachment of the Royal Mounted Police.

The geologists were found by Corp. J. J. Malloy in charge of the post who was ordered by radio to go in their search. The members of the expedition besides Fuller are Peter Boddum, of Chrysal Lake, Iowa; Gordon Armstrong, of Brit. Iowa, and Max J. Kane, of Iowa City.

Philadelphia Police Say That Five Jimmed Way Into Room to Kill.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—What police believed to be another chapter in gang warfare in Philadelphia occurred today when they found a man, identified as Daniel O'Leary, one of three brothers sought for the killing of Hugh McCool, shot to death in a rooming house on North Park avenue.

He had been shot about 5 a. m. by five men who jammed their way into the house and then forced the door of the man's room on the third floor. The five men and a girl were seen to leave the house immediately after the shooting. The girl is believed to be the one O'Leary introduced as his wife when he engaged the room last Monday. He gave the name of Daniel Burns.

McCool formerly was a bat boy and mascot for the Philadelphia Athletics. In later years he was proprietor of a cafe. Last Thursday he was shot to death by several men who fired from an automobile. Two other men with McCool in the time were wounded, one thirteen times.

Glau had said that they were in the Washington Post because they secure "Today's Results Today."

Fast, Powerful, Costs Less to Run—

This Twin-Ignition-Motored Nash "400"

"More power, more speed" is the vogue of the day in motor car performance. That's one good reason why the country is swinging to Nash.

The new Nash "400" is the car with the Twin-Ignition, 12-spark-plug, high-compression motor. It gives you more power and more speed—far more than you will ever care to use.

It gives you this speed and power with a smoothness and ease that other new cars without 7-bearing crankshafts and hollowed crank pins cannot begin to equal.

And it gives it to you—NOT with an increase in gasoline, NOT with special, costly gasoline—but with LESS gasoline per mile and any kind of gasoline you choose to buy.

This is possible because Nash, instead of merely increasing the size of the motor, has developed new principles of motor design, and offers a radically new type of motor.

All 11 models of the Advanced and Special Six "400" are powered by the Twin-Ignition engine—the motor marvel of the year in the automobile industry.

NEW FLOOD BRINGS LOSSES IN GEORGIA

Towns Isolated, Three Deaths Reported and More Warnings Issued by Officials.

ALABAMA ALSO SUFFERS

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 15 (A.P.)—Serious flood conditions were widespread over Georgia tonight as the tropical storm which hit the State last night blew itself out in a torrent of rain over the upper watersheds of Georgia and Alabama. Only one death was reported, but preliminary estimates gave enormous damage to crops, highways and wire communications, with several towns virtually isolated.

The most acute situations appeared tonight at Milledgeville and Macon, Ga., where flood waters from the Ocmulgee River already had inundated a score of homes. With the water works out of commission, Milledgeville was restricted to use of a small supply of drinking water in a half-filled stand-pipe. Washouts prevented any rail service. Macon had no trains to Savannah, Athens or Augusta and a main line of the Southern Railway to Brunswick went out this afternoon from a washout near Cochran, Ga.

An Atlantic Coast Line train was marooned near Piddock by washouts before and behind it with 57 passengers aboard.

Unconfirmed reports from Panama Springs, Fla., said two fishermen had been missing since high tides in the gulf submerged the island on which they made their home. The flood threat was believed diminishing in the Lake Okeechobee district. Several hundred square miles of fertile Everglades farms have been inundated, with losses estimated in excess of $500,000.

Flood warnings were broadcast tonight along the Ocmulgee, Ocmulgee, Flint and Chattahoochee rivers in Georgia. Rainfall varied from 2 inches in Atlanta to 10 inches at Milledgeville, the average being about 3.5 inches.

Spartanburg, S. C., Aug. 15 (A.P.)—Battling through a heavy rain accompanied at times by stiff winds, Spartanburg was early tonight facing a storm that promised to inflict more damage than that of last Saturday morning. Two mills, Beaumont and Arkwright, flooded Saturday, are already partly under water with the Chiquipin and Fairforest Creeks threatening the villages.

Streets in the city were badly washed at early dusk. The gas plant, put back in operation Monday after being flooded Saturday, is again under water and the city is without gas.

REAL TRAFFIC OFFENDERS ESCAPE ARREST, IS CHARGE

yond dispute that there are literally thousands of stop-sign law violations in the course of a month.

Further, this infraction is universally accepted as one of the most dangerous and stultifying of traffic influences. Yet, according to the arrest record for July, police detected only 284 motorists in violation of this vital regulation.

The corner cutter piles his practice on a wholesale scale in Washington, if the word of intelligent and reputable observers is to be accepted. That fact makes the more surprising the arrest analysis revelation to the effect that only eleven were arrested on this charge during the month of July.

Another startling result deduced from the arrest record is that relating to safety zone regulation violations. Of the 4,135 arrests, this serious infraction accounted for only 12.

Safety Regulations Ignored.

Many commentators are convinced that that number can be noted during any 10 minutes of heavy traffic on any of the outlying boulevards, such as Connecticut or Wisconsin avenues.

It is a violation that is regarded by motorists and pedestrians alike as a flagrant display of ignorance or arrogance, and that so small a number of the apparently guilty are arrested is a shock to those who desire to see conditions here remedied.

In the opinion of many students of traffic, it is significant that the bulk of traffic arrests comprises offenses that are unimportant with regard to street safety and smoothness of traffic flow. Of the July arrests, they cite in substantiation of their point of view the fact that 1,443 were for overtime parking, more than 800 more than for all the really serious infractions combined.

Further corroborative evidence they find in the fact that 195 were arrested for driving without permits, a serious charge, they grant, only in case the driver is not regularly licensed and not when he merely has left his permit at home.

Lights Causing Few Accidents.

A question also is raised in connection with the 428 arrests made for defective headlights. In many quarters, nonlegal lights are regarded as a grave menace and in some cases they are. Yet, a recent survey of more than 25,000 traffic mishaps by one of the progressive motor vehicle departments of the country revealed that faulty lights were accountable for less than 1 per cent—trivial in comparison with the 74.3 per cent traced to speeding and other forms of driving misconduct.

That the July figures are by no means exceptional to the general average with respect to traffic arrests is regarded as clearly evident in a comparison with the total number made last year.

These figures reveal that of 38,370 police apprehensions of traffic violators, the Police Department, itself, classified 29,619 as miscellaneous. There were, in that twelve months, 5,821 arrests for speeding, again, roughly, 14 per cent of the total. The proportion with regard to reckless driving, similarly, is indicated in the fact that 2,031 were taken on this charge.

The whole situation with respect to traffic arrests, as measured by conditions on the streets of the National Capital, leads to one of two views on the part of most observers: either the police force is inadequate or inefficient, or both; or that it is misdirected in its efforts to punish the minor law violator while the serious menace to safety roams rampant through the streets.

Conditions, these students of traffic believe, will be remedied when the police force is enlarged or spurred to greater diligence with the effect that its arrest total shows the arrogant and reckless in the lead—the position now held by the overtime parker, who is a violator, of course, but the easiest type to apprehend.

Auto Driver Fined $100, Given 135 Days in Jail

Douglas Haley, Congress Heights, Md., was sentenced to serve 135 days in jail and fined $100 when he was found guilty of three traffic charges in Police Court yesterday by Judge John P. McMahon. Haley was charged with being the operator of an automobile which collided with an auto driven by David Meredith, from which passengers were alighting on Benning road northeast, and to have failed to stop.

Meredith, 14-year-old Haley, he said, and the accused driver jumped from his car and ran, being captured by Meredith after a foot chase. Haley was sentenced to serve 45 days in jail for leaving after colliding, 30 days for operating without a permit and 60 days and $100 fine for reckless driving. Haley pleaded guilty to all charges. An additional 25 days in jail was the alternative for failure to pay the fine.

Ralph Peck, driver of a truck which struck the parked car of Charles J. Bentley, 610 T street northwest, was sentenced to serve 30 days for operating without a permit and fined $40 or an alternative of 15 days in jail for leaving after colliding.

Communist Riot Laid
By Police to Boy of 14

Philadelphia, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—Charges of inciting to riot have been lodged against Benjamin Weiss, 14-year-old schoolboy, as a result of the street fight between members of the "Workers' Communist Party," whom he addressed at an open-air meeting, and several hundred bystanders.

Police were sent to the scene last night when several persons complained that seditious remarks were being made by speakers. Upon their arrival Weiss jumped to the platform and made an impassioned speech that started a riot. The meeting was dispersed.

NEW CHINESE NOTE REBUFF TO JAPAN

Determination to Abrogate Treaty Indicated; Tokyo Will Pay No Heed.

MANCHURIA MODUS SEEN

Shanghai, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—The Nationalist government has sent a second note to Japan regarding the disputed treaty of 1896. The contents were not revealed officially but it was indicated that the note reiterates China's determination to abrogate the pact. This note was handed to the Japanese consul at Nanking late last night. Today that official was transmitting it to the Japanese minister at Peking.

Tokyo, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—Although the government has not received Nanking's second note on the 1896 treaty, Japanese authorities today reiterated their refusal to listen to any Chinese proposals for revision until the nationalists have acknowledged validity of the existing pact.

Speaking at a cabinet meeting today, Premier Tanaka announced formally his decision to abandon his contemplated statement reviewing the entire China policy of the government. The premier said that owing to postponement of the proposed union of Manchuria with Nanking, peace was insured for the time being in the northern dependencies. Therefore he considered that the statement was unnecessary at this time.

London, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—A Reuter dispatch from Mukden, Manchuria, says the critical situation caused by Japan's stand against reconciliation between the Chinese Nationalists and Manchuria seems likely to be settled by a compromise. Manchuria would undertake not to hoist the Nationalist flag for three months, for which Japan would agree not to interfere.

The 1896 treaty between Japan and China has been the center of dispute between the two countries involving Manchuria and the whole Japanese status in China. The original treaty provided that after its life of ten years it would have automatic revival for the same term unless formal notice of abrogation was given by either party previous to its revival date. That is what happened in 1916, and Japan claims that the treaty was automatically renewed again in 1926. The Nationalist government does not consider itself bound by the regime at Peking which it overthrew. The treaty grants extraterritorial rights to Japanese residents in China and is one of the "unequal" pacts which the Nationalists desired to revise, not only with Japan, but with other powers.

kennels, out on Georgia avenue, and it is also probable that his grave will be marked by a headstone bearing an appropriate epitaph.

Frank E. Cunningham, clerk of the District Supreme Court, yesterday received a letter from Mrs. M. Marx, of White Hill Farm, Rocky Ridge, Md., asking how she should proceed in seeking to adopt 4-year-old Gloria Matus, who was orphaned by the river tragedy.

The letter, dated August 4, reads: "Please be so kind as to advise me where I must try to get little Gloria Matus as my baby. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Matus left no relatives in this country."

"They were dear friends to us, and both have often asked me to take their baby if anything should ever happen to them, which I promised I would gladly do. We have no children and we can give the best of references."

Cunningham advised Mrs. Marx that the code of the District provides for the adoption of infants on application of residents of the District only. Gloria, who still thinks that her parents are on a vacation trip, is now living with Mr. and Mrs. John Schaeffer, of 1428 Irving street northwest.

Bride of Mr. V. E. Russell

Miss Violet May Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bruce, was married to Mr. Frank Edmund Russell, of San Juan, Porto Rico, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Russell, of Annapolis, Md., yesterday, at 12:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church, the Rev. William Sharpe officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of ivory satin, the tight basque made with long sleeves pointed over the wrists and a round neck line. The long full skirt was shirred to the basque and fell longer in the back than in the front. Her veil was of princess lace, which fell over a full e veil.

Mrs. Robert S. Gladden was matron of honor and wore a gown of green organdie, a large picture hat of beige color Swiss hair braid, and she carried yellow roses. Miss Ivy Bruce was maid of honor for her sister and had a costume of coral color organdie similar to that of Mrs. Gladden and she carried butterfly roses. Mrs. Rudolph Dorsett also attended the bride, having a gown of white organdie. Little Miss Betty Jane Gladden, niece of the bride, was flower girl and had a dainty frock of pale yellow organdie trimmed with pink and yellow roses. She carried a basket filled with pink and yellow roses.

Mr. James Donald Russell was best man for his brother, and the ushers included Mr. Donald Lambert, of Washington, and Mr. George Fletcher, of Clarendon, Va.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Bruce, mother of the bride, received with them, wearing a gown of blue georgette crepe with a large blue hat and a shoulder bouquet of pink sweet peas.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Russell left for a wedding trip, the bride wearing an ensemble of Napoleon blue georgette crepe. They will make their home in San Juan, Porto Rico. Among those at the wedding were: Mrs. R. E. Peregray, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Seelig, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Seelig and Mr. E. T. Seelig, Jr., of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. ## BANKERS ARE TOLD CREDIT IS EXPANDED

Gov. Seay Warns of Penalties, in Letter He Sends to Reserve Members.

CITY'S MARKET IS ACTIVE

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Warning that any further weakening of the Nation's credit structure by continued expansion of credit will lead to penalties, Gov. George J. Seay of the Fifth Federal Reserve district, in a letter mailed to local bankers yesterday, reviewed conditions which have brought about prevailing high interest rates, and cautioned against excessive borrowing on reserves in this district. His statement disclosed that on July 31 Washington banks had borrowed from the Richmond institution funds nearly eight times in excess of the aggregate for the same day last year. Loans to local banks on July 31, 1927, were $485,000, contrasting with $3,770,000 two weeks ago. Against this amount Washington banks have $9,174,267.76 in reserve deposits, he said.

Gov. Seay points out in his statement that the reserve ratio of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank is the lowest in the system. On July 31 it averaged 31.1, as compared with 69.9 for the system as a whole, which in itself registered a drop from 79.7 recorded July 27 last year.

"On the same date (July 31)," his letter reads, "there were 94 member banks borrowing from us more than their basic line, of which 39 were 'country banks.' The amount borrowed by 'city banks' in excess of their basic line was only $1,800,000."

There were 287 borrowing banks in this district out of a total membership of 561, his statement shows. Of these, some have borrowed nearly the full amount of all reserve deposits, while 48 per cent have borrowed nothing.

New York Figures Exceeded.

"The impression seems to exist with these banks that have written to us that the increase in the aggregate of bank loans on securities was almost entirely in the hands of New York City," the governor said in his letter.

"To the contrary, the Federal Reserve Bulletin of July shows that the increase in security loans of the reporting member banks above referred to outside of New York City was not far from twice the amount of such loans in New York City banks."

It was declared in the statement that its purpose was "to show that a very marked degree of credit expansion exists, and that it is still going on concurrently with a decrease in the gold base, upon which bank credit is built up."

"The credit structure, therefore," the letter continues, "is not as strong as it was, and it can not continue to be weakened by further expansion of credit without penalty. One of the penalties of an expanded condition of credit is a rise in interest and discount rates, and the cause for the rise up to this point is made sufficiently clear, I believe, in the foregoing.

Not an Artificial Situation.

"It is not an artificial situation by any means, as some are saying; it is the natural result of acts which have preceded it and led up to it."

The governor explains that the price of credit, like the price of most things, is governed by the supply, and the supply is governed by the ability to obtain excess reserve. He declares it is not a legitimate source of supply to obtain excess reserve by borrowing for continuous use.

Discussing the effect of the diminished gold supply on the credit situation, Mr. Seay states that on June 30, 1927, the ratio of gold stock to the total bank deposits and currency was 6.57 per cent, or nearly 1 per cent less.

"One per cent does not sound very formidable," he comments, "but the difference between 7½ per cent and 6½ per cent expressed in percentage of decrease is between 13 and 14 per cent. Measuring it in another way, the difference expressed by the amount of the decrease in the gold supply above mentioned was $456,000,000, at the same time making material allowance for the increase in credit."

"The ratio has never been at such a low point except in the latter part of 1920, when it was 6.3 per cent. On June 30, 1918, when expansion or inflation was getting under full headway, the ratio was 8.9 per cent."

"This comparison is significant. The situation being what it is, it is manifest that if we had the entire amount of gold back and banks were enabled to pay off borrowed money to the extent credit would still be heavily expanded."

District Market Active.

Trading picked up on the Washington Stock Exchange yesterday, with Mergerthal Linotype leading at prices ranging from 100½ to 101½. More than 300 shares of the stock changed hands. The last price brought on the market was 100½.

Capital Traction Co. was firm at 104, and Chestnut Farms Dairy preferred fractionally off at the same figure. Washington Gas Light continued to drop, selling at 93½ yesterday. Potomac Electric sold at 111½. American Security & Trust at 45½, and Merchants Transfer & Storage common at 128.

New interest was also manifest in the bond market. Washington Gas 6s series B, $6,500 in all, brought 106; $3,000 Capital Traction 5s sold at 101½; $1,000 Washington Railway & Electric bonded at 92½, and Anacostia & Potomac R. R. 5s held at 98½. Washington Gas 6s, series A, were more than a point off at 102½.

Curb Review

New York, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—Reassured by a replenished supply of call money and "bullish" demonstration on the stock exchange, speculators for the advance resumed operations on the curb market today. While activity was almost entirely professional and trading was in moderate volume, a number of stocks were pushed up to new highs.

Automotive shares were the center of activity. Sparks Withington shot up nearly 15 points. Pines Winterfront "A" touched a new high at 126 in a 6½ point gain, and Checker Cab advanced 2½ points to a new peak at 43½. Auburn Auto, Bendix "B" and Safe T Stat were also in demand at higher levels.

Amusement shares were in heavy demand. Warner Bros. "B" gaining 2½ points. Columbia Graphophone 1½, and Fox Theater "A" fractionally. Other Industrials making good gains were Anchor Post Fence, up 5; Adolph Gobel, up 3; United States Asbestos, at a new high at 37, and Zenith Radio advancing 5 points to a new peak at 106. Bancially rallied fractionally. Weak spots were Aluminum Co. of America and Aluminum Ltd., down 7. Libbey-Owens, down 7½.

Richmond Bros. down 4½, United Milk Products, down 3, and Firestone Tire & Rubber, down 2½ points. A. O. Smith dropped 6 points on profit taking after its sensational advance of 45 points in the previous two days. Mines were irregular. Noranda advancing 1½ points in heavy trading, while Lake Shore dropped to a new low at 19½. Hela sagged on publication of a decreased earnings report. Oils were steadier under announced decreased crude production last week and higher crude prices in California. The West was still strong enough to prevent any general upturn. Vacuum was a strong feature, pushing ahead 2½ points.

Utilities were stronger. Electric Bond and Share gaining 1½ and United Gas Improvement rallying 2 points.

COTTONSEED OIL MARKET.

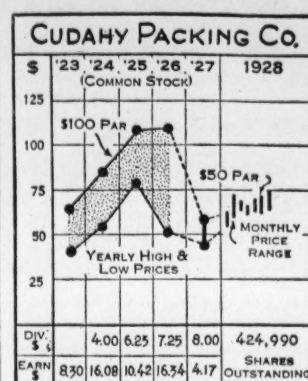

New York, Aug. 15 (A.P.)—COTTONSEED OIL—Prime crude, nominal; prime summer yellow, spot, 9.25; September, closed, 9.35; October, 9.45; December, 9.55; January, 9.65; March, 9.75.

of 1929 and thereafter, for the filing of consolidated returns by affiliated corporations and the determination of the tax liability of, and the collection of the tax from, affiliated corporations filing consolidated returns.

It was announced yesterday at the department that public hearings will be held beginning September 10, 1928, and continuing through September 15, 1928, or until the hearings may be properly closed.

The hearings will be held in room 276 of the Treasury Building, beginning each morning at 9:30. They will be held before a committee composed of Henry Herick Bond, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; David H. Blair, Commissioner of Internal Revenue; Clarence M. Charet, of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and Ellsworth C. Caldwell, special assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury.

TILDEN, BARRED FROM EAST'S TEAM, BEATEN; ROBERTI WINS OVER RISKO IN FOURTH ROUND

Italian Giant Is Floored By Punch

Risko Finds Range of Foe After Losing in 1st Two Rounds.

20,000 Crowd Boos Quick Ending of 1st Elimination.

By EDWARD E. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer). BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 15.—One careless left swing to the body landed deep of four territory below the waist of huge Roberto Roberti, tonight cost rubbery Johnny Risko as many defeats as he gathered in Tex Rickard's entire heavyweight elimination series.

The one punch, landing in the giant Italian's groin after 1 minute and 39 seconds of fighting in the sixth round of the first of Humbert A. Fugazy's new elimination series, sent Roberti writhing to the floor, unconscious, but victor over the Cleveland giant-killer on a foul.

"Double Roberti" scaling 22 pounds to a meager 187 for the durable Bohemian, was the first of the main-mountains that have come along in Risko's career and passed by with their shields rather than on them. Despite that Risko, according to the Associated Press score sheet, had a clear margin of five of the five full rounds fought while Roberti won the first two.

The wildest sort of controversy greeted the verdict. For a full five minutes after Roberti, groaning in pain, was lifted over the ropes and carried to his dressing room, the crowd of more than 20,000 in the National League ball yard stood and registered its disapproval in a storm of boos and hisses that rolled back and forth across the field.

To many of the ringers it appeared that Risko, solving the giant Italian's attack to a nicety and shaking him up consistently with sweeping hooks to the head, had smashed his left hand full in the pit of Roberti's stomach, as the massive fellow bounded in from the ropes. The Italian floundered to the floor, seemingly unconscious, and made no attempt to cross that puzzled the referee awarded him the victory. Then he was a picture of agony.

Looming over Risko as only George Godfrey, the huge negro has in a ring, Roberti smashed the Cleveland prizefighter under the ring in the first two rounds with a long left and even longer right cross that puzzled the baker. Before Johnny warmed up to his task of out-galloping these gigantic upstarts, Roberti had drawn a stream of blood from his lips.

Risko leaping on his foe like a tiger, landed on his back in the third round, leaping in with left swings to the body that sounded all over the arena. In close, although Roberti with his great strength tossed him about like a

MACKS AGAIN BEATEN BY TIGERS

Quinn Falters Near White Sox Take Second Detroit Wins, 6 to 3.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—The Philadelphia Athletics today missed another chance to cut down the New York Yankees' lead to three and one-half games by dropping their second straight game to the Yankees, 6 to 3.

Sam Gibson and Jack Quinn battled through a scoreless tie until the seventh when Orwell doubled Miller home with the first run of the game.

In the eighth, however, the Yankees contrived two errors which with three hits, gave the Tigers four runs and enough to win.

Red Wingo clubbed in two more runs in the ninth, and though the Athletics rallied in their last turn at bat, they fell three runs short of tying the score.

Cubs Rally in Ninth To Beat Giants, 6 to 5

Chicago, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—The Cubs pounded Joe Genewich and Jim Faulkner for three runs in the ninth here today to nose out the Giants by 6 to 5 and even the series at one victory for each team.

The winning rally consisted of Stephenson's single, a pass to Grimm, Hartnett's sacrifice, MacMillan's single, which tied the score; Blake's single, Beck's fielder's choice and Maguire's single. Genewich was removed after the score was tied, but was charged with the defeat. Ott and MacMillan hit home runs.

Joe Ray Wins Marathon in Ireland

Chicago Star Makes Remarkable Time Over Course.

Osborn Retains Two Titles; Hahn Bows to Edwards.

DUBLIN, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—America's representative in the annual marathon of the Irish people, opened today, but with the victor in some of the most difficult of the world's great races.

Joe Ray, former middle distance champion, who competed in the 1500-meter run in the last time he appeared here, ran off with the marathon race from Movon to Dublin, the opening event of the program, in the amazing time of 2hrs 31m 24.5s.

Osborn's winning time was 6 feet 4 inches. In the standing broad jump, the Canadian won the Olympic title, 11 ft 2 in. over the American, 10 ft 10 in.

Farrell's Golf Defi Accepted by Hagen

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Upon his return here today from a fishing trip, Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, announced his acceptance of the challenge of Johnny Farrell, national open title holder, for a series of matches for the "championship of the world."

Hagen said that he favored Farrell's proposal for a series of five 36-hole engagements, the first of which would likely be played here.

Bush Chased as Pirates

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Although outbatted by 12 to 11, the Robins defeated the Pirates, 6 to 5, in the third game of the series here today, as Chicago Vango got credit for his sixth straight triumph. The Dazzler gave way to Jess Petty in a Pirate flurry in the eighth, but retired with a lead which remained good.

Brooklyn acquired its winning margin in the fifth when Fred Fussell was driven from the mound by a three-run rally, started by Joe Harris' home run and capped by three doubles—by Bissonette, Bancroft and Vance himself.

The last two were off Joe Dawson who relieved Fussell.

Browns Again Beaten by Nats, 4-3

Braxton Effective in Pinches After Mates Take the Lead.

Goslin's Two Doubles Factors in Victory; Schulte Stars.

By FRANK H. YOUNG. Making it two in a row over the St. Louis Browns yesterday, the Nationals again upheld the prestige of the East by being the only club able to win from "Western" invaders.

The final score was 4 to 3 and the 3,000 or more fans who witnessed the pastime will vouch for the fact that the game was a real slug-out and an interesting as the figures would indicate.

Garland Braxton and Sam Gray were the respective hurlers and, although their offerings were touched on a number of occasions, a combination of good pinch-hitting by them and good support by their teammates enabled the Nats to pull out of several holes and kept the result in doubt until the final out of the game was turned in.

The Nats started off like they would send Gray to the showers in short order, but they stopped just as quickly with one marker to their credit in the second when Schulte singled and Gray pulled out for five or six more days.

After Braxton had retired the Browns in order in the first, West opened for the Nats with a single and Rice followed with an O'Rourke's hot homer, with Blue on first in the ninth, pointed out by Rice and ended the game with a lightning throw to Joe Judge.

Tunney's Tongue Keeps Him From Seclusion, Says Pegler

Photographers and Reporters Who Now Ire Him May Have Been Responsible for His Crown, His Million and His Romance.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER. Special to The Washington Post. NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Now that Gene Tunney has retired not only from the prize-fight industry, but from the society of pugilists, there will be little disposition to keep talking back to him if he didn't keep on saying things that call for sharp answers.

Thus, when Mr. Tunney upbraid the reporters and the photographers whose presence was a second preliminary fighter, who looked a tenacious pugilist and whose reporter's label to tell him all about the media oblongata or showed his clear-eyed quaker of Mr. Tunney on any proposition that the man will never be able to make himself forgotten as long as he keeps a tongue in his head.

In those days it was the reporter and the photographer whose presence was a second preliminary fighter, who looked a tenacious pugilist and whose reporter's label to tell him all about the media oblongata or showed his clear-eyed quaker of Mr. Tunney on any proposition that the man will never be able to make himself forgotten as long as he keeps a tongue in his head.

You see, it is so easy to make a quaker of Mr. Tunney on any proposition that the man will never be able to make himself forgotten as long as he keeps a tongue in his head.

Mercur Victor Over Disinterested Ace in Two Sets.

Bell Defeats Hunter, No Chance of Stars 6-4, 7-5; Large Gallery Gasp.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—For the second time in a month, the bugaboo of "Big Bill" Tilden's closing tennis days—the player-writer rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association—today barred the outlawed ace of American courts from tournament play.

Shortly before Tilden, captain of the United States Davis Cup team, and his crack teammate, Francis T. Hunter, lost their matches in surprising straight sets in the quarter-final round of the Eastern turf court championship and followed close on the heels of another upset in which his friend and Davis Cup teammate, Francis I. Hunter, was beaten by Berkeley Bell, Dallas, Tex.

Whether or not his playing was a gesture of disinterest, America's "outlaw tennis king" did not put up any argument that he would not play. Mercur at no stage appeared to be extended and the standard of tennis was not particularly high.

A gallery as large as that which watched Tilden made his debut here yesterday gasped in amazement from one game to the next as the lanky Philadelphia lobbed his heavy, over-powered, but well-played inferior court generalship.

It was the first time Tilden had been beaten in an American tournament since George Lott downed him in a four-set struggle at Ormond Beach, Fla., in 1917, a sportsmanlike one of the few straight set reverses of his career.

Those who watched today's match were puzzled at the astonishing result. Tilden's attitude during the match was not one of disinterest or carelessness. Many with a high opinion of Tilden's qualities as a sportsman were firm in the opinion that he tried his best, but was badly off form.

Hunter, left the tournament after his two set defeat by Bell. The next four favorites—Lott, John Doe, Santa Monica, Calif.; Mercur and Bell—remain.

John Doe advanced to the semifinal round by defeating Harry Coggeshall, of Des Moines, Iowa, Grinnell College star, who was seeded eighth. The scores were 6-3, 6-2.

Coggeshall had been playing so well this season that he had been expected to defeat the young Westerner who achieved such brilliant results last season, but had not been playing up to his mark this summer. The Davis Cup candidate, however, overpowered Coggeshall with his strong service and generally strong court aggressiveness.

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., another favorite, advanced to the semifinal bracket more easily than had been expected, defeating Mrs. Lillian Scherman Meeker, of New York, who was seeded seventh. Mrs. Bundy was national champion in 1904, found no really exerting challenge from Mrs. Anderson, the recent victor over Penelope Anderson, ranked seventh last year.

Cards Strengthen Lead By Beating Braves, 7-5

St. Louis, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Wee Willie Sheredd held the Braves to seven hits in the second game of the series here today and the St. Louis Cardinals increased their National League leadership to three and a half games with a 7 to 5 victory.

Three Boston hurlers granted a doze of hits, including a home run by Tommy Bond, who was batting second, and Sunny Jim to within one of Hack Wilson of the Cubs, making his total 26.

Totals: 30 24 15. Runs: 7. Hits: 15. Errors: 2. Left on base: 10. Stolen bases: 1. Sacrifices: 1. Double plays: 1. Strikeouts: 10. Batters out: 27.

Miss Van Wie Beaten In Women's Western

Indian Hill Golf Club, Chicago, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Today's play in the second round matches in the Western women's golf championship brought forth two record 37s on the second nine by players who were down at the halfway mark, a splendid 78 (three under par) the elimination of last year's runner-up and of the California champion in an extra hole match. But it sent into the third round the defending champions, Mrs. Harry Pressler, of Los Angeles, and Gertrude Boothby, of St. Paul, Minn.

Hamm, Jumper, Wins 100 Meters in Sweden

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Ed Hamm, world's record holder in the 100-meter dash, today won the 100-meter dash in a track meet here, beating the American and Swedish Olympic athletes. His time was 10.5 seconds. Three other Americans—Henry Cummings, Henry Russell and Roland Locke—were second, third and fourth, respectively.

Emerson Spencer of Stanford University, won the 400-meter run for the American team in 1:11.4 seconds, while the Yankee team also finished ahead in the 400-meter relay.

Shaute Holds Red Sox; Tebbe Wins Summa Hurt

Boston, Aug. 15 (A.P.).—Joe Shaute, Cleveland southpaw, kept Boston's eight hits well scattered today and had an easy time winning from the Red Sox, 7 to 0. Johnny Hoenop knocked in three of the Indians' runs. Griffin was knocked out of his box in the fourth inning. The outstanding fielding play was Summa's catch of Tait's long drive into the right-field corner, after which he crashed against the fence, suffering only a bruise which led to his retirement later.
